NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The Coronation Contingent.

Somehow or other the Volunteers forming the contingent to be sent to England to represent the Colony at the Coronation do not seem to be so enthusiastic as they were at first. In fact a strong feeling prevails that the Government are running the show on the cheap. True, each man gets a holiday and a free passage to England and back, but that is about all, and he will be put to considerable personal expense before he returns. Of course nobody could expect the Government to give the men first class passages and free drinks, but it does seem rather hard that the men should get no pay whatever. The Government are told, will not even allow the Volunteers a special rate of exchange for the ten pounds which each man has to hand over before he is included in the Contingent, and this, considering that each one is sacrificing three months of valuable time to make a brave show for the Colony, seems at least inconsiderate. We should like to know if any other Colony is sending men on similar terms?

What is the use of it?
The enforcing of quarantine regulations against the Macao steamers really seems to us to be a trifle absurd. In the first place plague takes some five or six days to incubate and it is therefore very unlikely indeed that any case will be detected, for a Chinaman feeling ill would hardly embark for Hongkong. Secondly the inspection must remain a practical dead letter, for no junk or native craft are examined and there is nothing whatever to prevent people coming to the Colony in these. Thirdly the inspection throws a deal of extra work upon a very much over-worked official, the Health Officer of the Port, whose time, considering how many different ports are now on the black list, is very fully occupied.

To make matters worse no assistance whatever has been given to the Port Health Officer. The Commission on the Medical Department recommended assistance being given, but between recommendations and their accomplishment there is, especially in Hongkong, a wide difference. Plague has already appeared at Canton and we presume, therefore, that the Sanitary Authorities will enforce inspection against that port. Any failure to do so will be, to say the least of it, inconsistent, and yet we all know perfectly well that the regulations would be a mere dead letter so far as preventing the importation of the disease is concerned. It has been frequently pointed out that no man is likely to embark in a steamer when the disease has already made itself apparent, and there is much more fear of its being introduced by junks than by steamers. Either make the inspection thorough or do away with it altogether, for as at present carried out it is a farce.

The Proposed Kowloon Bridge.
We are very pleased to see that a Correspondent signing himself Engineer has written to our morning contemporary on the subject of Commander RUMSEY's proposed bridge to Kowloon. If Engineer is an engineer, and his assuming that title leads one to believe that he must be, then his opinion is of value and should carry weight. We should like to hear what the public generally have to say to the scheme, and therefore invite correspondence on the subject.

REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.

THE INCOME TAX.
LONDON, April 22nd.
The House of Commons has agreed to the Income tax resolution.

THE EASTERN COLONIES AT THE CORONATION.

The Rt. Hon. Sir Joseph West Ridgeway, G. C. M. G., Governor of Ceylon, will represent the Eastern Colonies, Fiji, and the islands of the Western Pacific, at the Coronation.

THE PEACE PROSPECTS.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Chancellor of the Exchequer speaking in the House of Commons, said that nothing could be more premature than the press rumours regarding peace in South Africa.

CROWN PRINCE OF SIAM DECORATED BY KING EDWARD.

King Edward has received His Highness the Crown Prince of Siam, and conferred upon him the Grand Cross of the Victorian Order on the occasion of his attaining his majority.

THE ILLNESS OF QUEEN WILHELMINA.

Latest reports on the condition of Queen Wilhelmina state that the patient has taken a favourable turn.

GREAT FIRE IN LONDON.

An enormous fire has been raging in the Barbican, London. The damage is estimated at £2,000,000 sterling.

THE NEW DUTIES.

The grocery trade is strongly protesting against the duty on rice, arrowroot and sago. Regarding the vexatious two-penny stamp duty on cheques, it is stated that a modification is probable.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

BANK OF CHINA AND JAPAN.—A notice to creditors of the above bank appears in our advertising columns.

FOUR CASES OF CHOLERA are notified as having occurred in the Colony for the 24 hours ended at noon to-day.

THE GERMAN CHINA MEDAL.—The Emperor William has bestowed the China Medal on Count von Bellestre, President of the Reichstag.

A TAILOR of New Street wanted a quantity of silk and not having the necessary funds purloined a length, valued at $4, the property of Woo Kwan. Six weeks with hard labour was the verdict.

THE CORONATION CELEBRATIONS.—A meeting of the General Committee appointed to decide on the form to be taken by the Hongkong Coronation celebrations is to be held in the Council Chamber at 5 p.m. to-morrow.

SINGAPORE VOLUNTEER CONTINGENT.—A sum of $35,000 has been voted by the Legislative Council of the Straits Settlements to defray expenses in connection with the sending home of the Volunteer Contingent for the Coronation ceremonies.

COTTAM & CO. FOR SUN HATS.

THE LATE LORD DUFFERIN.—Probate of the will of the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava has been granted, the estate being sworn at £108,548 9s. 8d.

DENGUE FEVER IN RANGOON.—An epidemic of dengue fever has broken out in Rangoon, similar to the outbreak which occurred twenty-five years ago.

JAPANESE NAVAL MANOEUVRES.—The Japanese Standing Squadron has been recently engaged in naval manoeuvres. The Squadron consisted of no less than forty-five battle ships, cruisers, and gunboats in addition to twenty-five torpedo-destroyers and torpedo-boats.

LUCKY CHAIR BEARERS.—An Imperial decree has been issued to the effect that on one silver ignits be given to each of the sedan-chair bearers of the Empress Dowager and also to the members of the Imperial Bodyguard who are accompanying the Court to the Eastern Mausolea.

A TERRIBLE DEATH.—At Quarry Bay on Tuesday evening a coolie met with a terrible accident. It appears that he made a foolhardy attempt to cross in front of eight waggons pushed along by a locomotive, when he was knocked down. The injuries sustained were of such a nature that instantaneous death resulted.

DREDGING OPERATIONS.—Sydney's beautiful harbour last month resulted in the following collection:—143 cats, 196 dogs, 277 fowls, 70 bags of meat, 54 bags of fish, 2 pigs, 4 sheep, 1 flying fox, 1 goat, 1 calf, and 5 hens. What a beautiful museum must lie at the bottom of the stretch of water between Hongkong and Kowloon.

GERMAN GYMNASIUM INSTRUCTOR.—From native sources we learn that Prince Su has recently engaged a German to teach modern gymnastic and physical culture, military drills and rifle shooting to his two younger sons. It is also reported that several young sons of other Princes and Imperial Dukes have joined the class.

TO CURE CANCER.—The Goldsmiths' Company has decided to commemorate the King's Coronation by making a grant of £5,000 to the Cancer Research Fund. Mr. H. L. Bischoffsheim has also offered to contribute £5,000 to the Fund, and another donation of the same amount as well as other smaller sums have been promised.

A DINNER, arranged by Mr. J. H. Downs, was given to Dr. W. Döberck, of the Hongkong Observatory, by several officers of the Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs at the Kowloon Hotel on Tuesday evening for the purpose of bidding him farewell and bon voyage on the occasion of his departure on the Empress of India the following day for a well deserved leave of absence in the old country.

BARONFSKY'S VAUDEVILLE COMPANY.—Before a very appreciative audience, the above talented Company again gave another of their exhibitions last night at the Theatre Royal. For to-night an entire change of programme is promised, the chief feature being the first appearance of forty clowns in their eccentric acts. We would remind our readers that this bright combination is showing for two more nights only.

THE GERMAN EMPEROR has conferred the Order of the Red Eagle, Second Class, with the Crown, on Herr Ballin, director-general of the Hamburg-American Line; the Order of the Red Eagle, Third Class, on Herr Tietgen, the first president of the company's council of supervision; and the Crown Order, Second Class, set in brilliants, on Herr Plate, the President of the North German Lloyd, and on Herr Wiegand, the director-general of the same line.

THE BOILER QUESTION.—The Parliamentary Committee on Navy boilers has decided to repeat last year's programme of steam trials by the cruisers Hyacinth and Minerva, including the trial to Gibraltar and back. Before this race the vessels will steam over the deep-sea course off the Cornish coast at speeds of 16 and 18 knots and the full natural draught speed. The course is one of 23 knots, and four complete runs are to be made at each of the three speeds. The Miner will then go to Stokes Bay for a series of runs at various speeds.

RUSSIAN ARTILLERY.—A detachment of 9 officers and 72 men of the Field Artillery of the Amur and Kwan-tung districts has been practising with the 76 centimetre quick-firing gun, 1900 model, on the trial gun-firing grounds near St. Petersburg. So soon as the requisite proficiency is attained, this detachment will leave for the Far East and will then take out a number of the guns. A quick-firing gun battery is already in the Far East, and the outgoing detachment will take out thither the necessary quantity of the new guns for equipping 18 new batteries. Each quick-firing battery will consist of six guns.

THE TOBACCO WAR.—Remarkable developments are taking place in the tobacco war. Ogden's (Limited) now offer to distribute among the customers purchasing direct from them, for a period of four years, the total net profits on their goods sold in the United Kingdom, together with an annual sum of £200,000. Compared to this certain and absolute gift to the trade the nebulous offer of the Imperial Tobacco Company of £100,000 per annum, conditional on profits, pales into insignificance. The British company, we fear, have been out-maneuvred. It showed its hand too soon, and the offer it made was too hypothetical and saddled with too burdensome conditions to attract the small trader.

COTTAM & CO. FOR PANAMA HATS.

NEW CHINESE MINISTERS.—China has decided to send, as requested, a minister to Italy and Japan and one to Austria-Hungary. The allowance, including salary, for each minister is £30,000 per annum. The number of attached interpreters is limited to four.

THE COR DUTY.—A London telegram to the Shanghai Mercury says:—The Radicals are preparing to raise objections to the Budget proposals on the ground that it threatens the poor man's life. Financial circles think that the addition of a penny stamp on cheques is a needless irritating measure.

AS OTHERSEE US.—Apropos of going home, the following remark originated from a P. and O. steamer regarding Anglo-Chinese travellers:—G. home they was all money and no clothes coming out all clothes and no money. The latter state, it is to be feared is a chronic one in China hands nowadays, who live on the credit occasioned by a rapidly vanishing dollar.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY was celebrated on the 17th ult. generally throughout Ireland, and also in many other places, and many other places in England where there is a considerable Irish population. There was a special parade of the Guards, now quartered in the Tower of London, at the close of which each man was presented with a bunch of shamrock provided by the Queen.

THE REWARD.—It is stated that a magazine has offered to Stone $35,000 (gold) for a series of six issues, and if so the profits of the affair will be $100,000 for the bandits, $35,000 and lecture fees for the abducted missionary, and $50,000 for the fellows who helped look for her. It is a business that everybody concerned, and the general public, the benefit of a sensation and a new fad.

A NEW RAILWAY LINE.—Two Chinese named Nien and Ong, on behalf of a certain American Capitalist, have asked the Board of Foreign Affairs for permission to construct a railway between King and Wuhu, to be known as King Wai, a distance of 3,000 li. The Chinese representatives have memorialized the Board, recommending the practicability of the suggestion. In the course of a few days, we expect to hear of the sanction of the Throne.

COREAN AFFAIRS.—Seoul, April 10th.—The French Minister to Seoul has forwarded an official note to the Korean Government in which it is pointed out that, as the contract between the Government and the Yunnan syndicate is still in force, Korea ought not to borrow money of other countries. As a consequence of the pension of work on the coinage of nickel for the money for work on the Seoul-Wiju railway is not forthcoming from the Treasury. It has been decided that the Emperor will defray the expenses from his private Treasury.

THE RECENT BIK in the Suez Canal was due to two of the British transport petroleum ships, Nerite and Bules, from Batoum. The Nerite took fire in the Bitter Lakes after standing by to light the Bules which had gone ashore a mile from there. All hope of saving the Nerite was abandoned, but the Bules got off safely. The Bules also appears to have ashore near Port Said about the same time and later, the Isle de Luzon collided with and disabled her rudder, a chapter of accidents. The Bules has since arrived at Suez in a safe and seaworthy condition.

WARSHIP'S NARROW ESCAPE.—During the trip of the Channel Squadron from Beech Haven to London last month the battleship Camperdown, which is the battleship Victoria in the Mediterranean in June 1893, twice narrowly escaped being destroyed. The Camperdown was almost in collision with the Empress of India, when she was in a safe and seaworthy condition. There was a dense fog during the trip. Soon after starting the Camperdown steamed within a few feet of her sister-ship and only successful manoeuvring prevented a collision. Again, when off Kins, the Camperdown was almost in collision with the Empress of India, when she was in a safe and seaworthy condition. There was a dense fog during the trip. Soon after starting the Camperdown steamed within a few feet of her sister-ship and only successful manoeuvring prevented a collision.

IMPERIAL TROOPS UTINY.—General Ma-yu-kun, who was deposed by the Throne to suppress the Chaoyang disturbances, proceeded with his troops, consisting largely of cavalry, to Chaoyang, headquarters of the insurgents. When his force was about 100 Chinese li from Tung-chow, some reason or other they refused to proceed further, and openly defied their officers. Two of the junior officers, while trying to be back to their senses the riotous soldiers, he killed. The mutineers proceeded to take charge of all the ammunition, arms, provisions and everything in the camp, and finally, they declared their general. There is every reason to believe that these men have since joined the insurgents.

DERI-BERI.—The symptoms of some of the symptoms of arsenic poisoning, beri-beri has been brought out by the enquiry of the Royal Commission. The following is the evidence of Dr. Reynolds:—In September, 1901, Major Ronald Ross asked him in case of supposed beri-beri which he had brought from the West Coast of Africa. The patient was a lady, the wife of an American mission, and was a total abstainer. She had well marked neuritis, almost similar to that occurring in arsenic poisoning, and it was ascertained she had been living almost entirely on lime and lemon fruit. Her hair was examined. Professor Dixon, Mann, who reported that contained not a trace of arsenic, but considerable quantities of lime. He suggested therefore that lime food generally should be further examined for the presence of arsenic.

EARL SPENCER was the principal speaker at the second session of the National Liberal Club on 19th April, and remarking on the treaty that had been made with Japan, said that he believed Japan would be of the greatest possible use to us. We should have the most intimate friendly relations with this extraordinary powerful country.

RUITS IN CUMILI—A despatch from the North says that there has been a riot in Taming-fu in the province of Chih. Several missionaries and their property have been attacked by the rioters. The amount of damage is not yet known. The Viceroy, Sir Shi Kai, has ordered a total of 100 soldiers and soldiers are to be sent at the same time to restore order.

A NEW TERROR, says Country Life, is added to our knowledge of the enemies of young fishes, for American naturalist mentions having observed mosquitos, at considerable altitudes only just below the snow-line, pounce down the larvae of trout the moment they come to the surface, transfix the brain, and suck out life juices. And, as if by way of retribution, same mail brings from another source a reliable antidote for the mosquito pest, which is introduced, golden carp in every possible and ornamental water, for the fish greedily devours the aquatic larvae of the mosquito.

THE EXTRAORDINARY EFFECT OF LYDDITE has been revealed by the statement that during recent experiments with the hulk of the old British battleship Edith, shells containing that explosive fractured fragments upon attacking vessels which were 900 yards distant. Other fragments dropped close to a gunboat situated 2,000 yards from the line of fire. The deduction is that when lyddite is used there is danger of a friendly vessel at least 2,000 yards away. The Outlook compares lyddite with a boomerang and points out that to be of any service it must be dropped right on board a hostile vessel. "If the projectile does not hit the rigging it will fly back and slay the slayer."

TAILS OR NO TAILS? An amusing story at the expense of the mill authorities is being told in the smoking-rooms of the Service clubs just now. It is to the effect that a short time ago instructions were given to all commanding officers of regiments calling upon them to report by a certain first, whether they were in favour of the substitution of a tail-coat for the present mess-jacket; and, secondly, whether such should be red or blue. Among the numerous replies received by the Committee appointed to inquire into this important matter was which ran as follows:—"Sir, in answer to your question of the—inst., I beg to report: (1) I approve the adoption of a tail-coat mess purposes, and (2) that I consider that tail should be red and the other one blue."

THE TRAFFIC IN OPIUM—An extensively signed memorial has been forwarded by the Archbishop of Canterbury for decisive action by the British Imperial authority in regard to the Indian opium with China. The memorialists say the opium in China is a vast national evil, and that the British action in regard to transportation into China has had disastrous results in injuring other branches of British commerce in that country, and in generating feelings of hostility to British subjects and in the minds of the Chinese people. "We conclude," "the grave duty of the British Government, as before the Supreme King and God, to purge itself of any evil of connection with great and public wrong." Lord Salisbury replied promising to lay the memorial to his colleagues in the Government.

MR. DILLON'S DILEMMA—Bullies are habitually towards, says the Mail Gazette, and there is nothing more characteristic of the Irish Nationalists, both in House of Commons and outside it, than their insatiable exhibition of criticism of which they habitually pass upon those whom they disagree. Hence, it was only to be expected that Mr. Dillon should howl rage and pain at Mr. Chamberlain's somewhat superfluous sarcasm. Having just called sojourn also a traitor, the honourable member duly became hysterical when subjected to similar treatment himself, took refuge in language, and called his adversary "a d d liar." Fortunately, hard words break no bones, even as soft bones butter no parsnips. Mr. Chamberlain, who has been called upon more than that across the floor of the House, will be none the worse for it. But Mr. Dillon's one to understand Private Mulvaney's distinction between Irish and "Black Irish."

FRANCE AND ASIA—Opinion abroad seems to be divided as to the meaning and significance of the so-called Note on the Anglo-Japanese Alliance. In some quarters it is regarded as a declaration that the operation of the Dual Alliance has been extended from Europe to Asia, and that henceforward Russia count upon France to help her to pull Chinese chestnuts out of the fire. In other quarters it is regarded merely as a demonstration and not as implying a new departure in policy. For our own part, says the Pall Mall, "we incline to the latter view. The Anglo-Japanese Agreement has undoubtedly lost the prestige of the Powers which are held to be antagonistic to England and Japan, and as Count Cassini has said, it is almost everything in China. As to the question of extension of Franco-Russian action, it is difficult to believe that at any serious crisis Far Eastern affairs of the two allies would have acted together, or that any assertion of their intention to do so would be necessary."

COTTAM & CO. FOR GENTS' BATHING GEAR.

A CASE OF PLAGUE, making the 19th this year, has been notified as having occurred at No. 5 Square Street.

A SPECIAL MEETING of the Sanitary Board is summoned for 12 noon, to-morrow, for the purpose of considering the advisability of declaring Pakhoi to be an infected port. A telegram to the effect that plague is epidemic at Pakhoi and the neighbourhood has been received.

PRINCE TSAI CHENG—In view of the arrival of Prince Tsai Cheng, special Chinese Ambassador to represent China at the Coronation ceremonies, by the P. and O. s.s. Bengal and of His Highness probable landing in this Colony, the members of the Chinese Club, have decided to entertain their Prince in a manner befitting his rank. To this end, the Club has been decorated with lanterns and evergreens. It is proposed to give a light luncheon to the Prince and his suite.

SUICIDE IN HONGKONG.

A WELL-KNOWN MERCHANT SHOTS HIMSELF.

Considerable surprise was evinced in the town this morning when it became known that Mr. O. Wegener senior partner of Messrs. Laus Wegener and Company had committed suicide. The affair took place at his house "The Castle" in Seymour Road this morning. To all intent and purposes the deceased was quite sane. He was seen last night at the Peak dining, and returned to his residence at about 11.30 p.m. After his breakfast this morning with the German Consul and Mr. Wiebel, who were living with him, the deceased went up to his room. A few minutes later a report was heard; not much notice was at first taken of the noise by the two gentlemen below, they probably thinking that it was the banging of a door. At any rate the gentlemen in question later on proceeded to the deceased room, where to their horror they found Mr. Wegener lying dead in a pool of blood and with a bullet wound in the temple. A letter was also found lying on the table written by the deceased, which stated that owing to ill-health, he had taken his life to save himself further suffering. No other motive is assigned for his rash act. The deceased was a very well known citizen and was much respected. We are informed that an enquiry will be held in connection with the matter.

THE RUSSIAN CIRCUS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONGKONG TELEGRAPH." SIR,—The authorities concerned have been good enough to allow the use of the City Hall to this circus but many wonder why they do not perform at a more convenient place, say the Wong-nai-chong or some such other open space. If they have been allowed the use of the City Hall, where they have been performing with credit to themselves and satisfaction to the authorities, why should they not be allowed greater facilities and encouragement, as otherwise two parties suffer, the company themselves and the general public who have an opportunity of seeing this company perform their remarkable feats, of which they cannot avail themselves under the present circumstances. It is still not late and the powers that be might well consider the question with the same magnanimity that has hitherto been shown to all the other circus troupes that have come and performed here.

Hongkong, April 24th, 1902.

THE NIPPON YUSEN KAISHA AND EXPORTERS.

A circular issued from the Tokyo Office of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha on the 1st inst. is as follows, and will be read with interest:—To those exporters from China, Hongkong and Japan to Europe, or to ports via Europe, who, from the 1st May to 31st October next, may have found it to their interest to confine their support and shipments, during that period, to the Nippon Yusen Kaisha Line, we shall be happy to allow a rebate of five per cent. on the freight paid as per Bill of Lading. To those who on the 30th April, 1902, have found it their interest to confine their support and shipments during the whole twelve months to the said Line, we will allow a further five per cent. on freights contributed up to 31st October, 1902, and five per cent. on those from that date to 30th April, 1903. To those who on the 31st October, 1902, may have found it to their interest to confine their support and shipments during the previous eighteen months to the said Line we will allow an additional five per cent. on freights contributed during the six months ending 30th April, 1903. Until further notice, shipments made by the "P. & O." "O. S. S." "M. M." "N. D. Lloyd's" "Austrian Lloyd's" "Rubattino" "East Asiatic Co. of Copenhagen" "Russian East Asiatic Steamship Co." "Glen" "Shire" "Ben" "Mutual" "Shell" and "Hamburg-American" Lines, and shipments by direct steamers to Black Sea ports, will not invalidate claims for the above. No "returns" will be payable on freight contributed by Rice and Oil from Japan, Silk and Treasure, and the produce of the Eastern Archipelago transhipped at Hongkong, nor any cargo the freight upon which may be arranged at a "NET" rate. Exporters applying for the "returns," which will be payable in London on and after the 1st January and 1st July, 1903 and 1st January, 1904, respectively, must fill up and sign forms which can be obtained from the agents.

THE REBELLION IN KWANGSI.

DESPATCH OF FRENCH CRUISE. TOKIO, April 15th. An official despatch to the Government states that the disturbances in Kwangsi are fast becoming alarming and two French cruisers left for South China from Saigon yesterday.—Asahi.

RAW MATERIAL FOR A CHINESE NAVY.

(From the N. C. D. News.)

A journey up and down the China Coast, especially when taken for the first time, sets the traveller wondering. He starts we will suppose from Hongkong, where the bustle and life of the harbour are a fitting prelude to his subsequent experience, inasmuch as with those surroundings he cannot fail to be struck at the very outset with the unlimited supply of hardy seamen which, if other places bear out the promise of this beginning, China must have at her disposal. It is roughly 800 miles from Hongkong to Shanghai, and another 800 to the northern limits of Pechili. Allowing a very small addition for the many fine rivers on the way, we may say 2,000 miles in a fairly straight line, and this, allowing again for inlets, bays, and the innumerable ins and out which are characteristic of the China Coast may be doubled without exaggerating in the least degree the length of the coast-line. We have thus 4,000 miles of sea front to consider. Much of it would need no defence, since nature has done her full share in that respect. But Chinese history, since it has had to do with foreigners, has been mainly a history of what has happened along the sea-board. Inland the empire has slept its long sleep, undisturbed even by echoes of the stirring deeds done around its ports and islands. It is the sea that has proved the path to China; it was her water gate that was left open, and it was through it that the Far East found its way into the heart of the Far West. And luckily for China it was the greatest of sea powers that first did so. It is still the fashion in high native circles to deplore the day when the Western barbarian keel first turned up the waters of the Yellow Sea, and brought the earliest news of the restless races beyond the setting sun. The native literati still regret the advent of Western learning as being infinitely inferior to the teaching of the sages, but there is an ever-growing section, including all that is progressive in the nation, which recognises the coming of the Westerner, rude though it was, as a blessing in disguise, as a means, the only means of rousing their country from the coma in which for centuries it had been living. But in common with ourselves, they think that the process of awakening, so far as the foreigner is concerned, has now gone nearly far enough. They are thankful for the shaking that roused them, but seeing that sleep has now departed from their drowsy eyelids, they begin to think that further knocking about is unnecessary.

But what are they to do to prevent repetitions of the past? Several lines of advice are open, but we would condense ours into the sentences, "Carry out with all honesty the treaties formed already and develop your powers." Of these one is the power we glanced at above, the power of the coast. Hitherto her coast line has been China's one vulnerable side. Why should she not strengthen it? If along her 4,000 miles of sea board we allow but 100 fishermen to the mile, we have 400,000 men from whom she may pick the personnel for her navy that is to be. What kind of men are they? That is a question which any of our coast captains would answer in a moment. They have watched these men from babyhood to old age. They know that from their first breath they breathe the invigorating ozone of the open sea; that they grow up accustomed to the busy ocean with all its hardships, its difficulties and dangers, that they are not afraid to face, and do face, the ever present perils of the typhoon season, and not infrequently pay the penalty. They have seen them at Swatow, at Amoy, Foochow, Ningbo, Chefoo, and along the myriad islands that adorn the coast as with a fringe, and they find them as ready to face the icy blasts of the wintry gulf up north as they are to stand the boiling sun of the southern sea.

Could any nation wish better raw material than this? Has Britain herself got better, or Japan? We doubt it. China then should take heart of grace and lay the foundations of a navy, which by and shall be in a position to protect her coasts as that of Japan does hers. It cannot be done in a day, and for that reason it is that the advice give above recommends a strict observance of treaty rights. China has made more than one effort to create a navy, and the results have been disastrous. But that was not the fault of the navy, but of China's diplomacy, which first drew her into a quarrel with France, and then into another with Japan. A diplomacy worth anything would have steered clear of both these dangers, and had there been honest and efficient administration the Chinese navy might by this time have been of respectable proportions. Experience has abundantly proved that the Chinese sailor and cadet, when well trained and led, is as good as could be wished. But as yet the raw material alone exists, and this needs getting into ship-shape. The breathing space that will in all probability result from the Anglo-Japanese Alliance should be utilised to the full, but wisely and under unexceptionable guidance.

THE POWER BEHIND THE THRONE.

The following is from a native correspondent at Peking:—Since the return of the Court to the Capital an atmosphere of uncertainty seems to have pervaded the Court precincts; no high minister, with the exception of one man daring either to recommend any person to the notice of the Empress Dowager, or suggest drastic reforms in the Government, although she has repeatedly issued decrees, since her return, commanding high ministers of the Court and those in the provinces to do so. Apparently the remembrance of what happened in the autumn of 1898, after the coup d'état, when sponsors, high in office, were either cashiered and dismissed, or banished to Chinese Turkestan or Northern Manchuria and their protégés beheaded, or proscribed for being "too strong reformers" has had a preventive effect, so that only a very few have, so far, been recommended as "men of brilliant talents and special diplomatic abilities." But even in the case of these few there has arisen the green-eyed monster of jealousy amongst the less fortunate ones and a number of Censors and Eminent Academicians have been denouncing the sponsors of the former—even such men as Prince Ching, the Grand Secretary Wang Wen-shao and Viceroy Yuan Shih-k'ai, not escaping the venomous spleen of these jealous censors and literati of the old régime, in spite of the esteem of the Empress Dowager towards them. The only one who has so far escaped the denunciatory memorials is the Grand Secretary and Councillor, Yung Lu, nephew of the Empress Dowager and the Power behind the Throne. He, these Censors and Hanlins consider too powerful to be touched at present and so for the nonce they have left him to himself.

H.E. Yung Lu, as already stated in the columns, has been for the past six weeks confined to his house, either through gout, rheumatism and, as a mark of Imperial favour of this dynasty, H.E. has been excused from sending up a memorial at the expiration of each sick leave and has been told to stay at home until he is thoroughly well and strong enough to take up his duties. In the meantime, however, his residence is constantly besieged by his colleagues in the Grand Council for advice or support in any scheme which they may wish to bring before the Empress Dowager. Even the bigoted Lu Ch'uan-lin thinks it impolitic to continue open enmity against his one-time rival for the favour of the Empress and sometimes joins the other Grand Councillors in calling upon Yung Lu and asking the latter's consent to any scheme they have in view. As an instance of the influence of Yung Lu over the Empress Dowager one may, perhaps, quote the effect of the recent appointment of the liberal-minded and enlightened ex-Director General of Northern Railways, Hu Yu-fen to the Vice Presidency of the Board of Works. It seemed that the former occupant of that post who, by this way, was also a recent appointee, had been "sickened" for some sort of breach of etiquette which therefore left a vacancy. The Grand Councillors accordingly had a meeting to decide who should be next recommended to the Empress Dowager for that post. Their Excellencies the Grand Secretary Wang Wen-shao and Chih Hsing-chi, President of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, suggested Hu Yu-fen, but none of those present ventured to take the responsibility of sending up the recommendation to the Empress Dowager. It was then suggested that Yung Lu's consent should be first obtained and so three of the Grand Councillors, Wang Wen-shao, Chih Hsing-chi and Lu Ch'uan-lin accordingly called on Yung Lu for the purpose. The latter was confined to his bed when they called, but upon their making known the object of their visit Yung Lu at once gave his consent saying that he would himself memorialise the Empress Dowager about it. The next morning Hu Yu-fen received his appointment—a much belated promotion, owing to H.E.'s favourableness towards everything British, which obtained for him the enmity of the powerful Russophiles at Court.—N. C. D. News

AN APING BRANCH OF PROMISE CASE.
An aching sequel to a lady's love-making was a bit of promise action, which came before Justice Bigham and a jury at Birmingham Assizes last month.

A wealthy Edgbaston lady, Miss Pattie Britten, sued as the defendant, and a Persian gentleman, Nestorius Marcus, as the plaintiff.

Mr. H. Young, K.C., described the case as an unusual plaintiff being a gentleman, but this was a serious breach of contract, and in the days when women's rights were so well valued, women must equally recognise duties and responsibilities. The lady had a great deal of what he might call "courting," and on making the contract was perhaps more responsible than the plaintiff, while she was wholly responsible for breaking off the match in a rather heartless manner, and without a show of ground.

The matter was not merely sentimental, added Mr. Young for the lady had £20,000 in cash, besides property, and she got the plaintiff to give up his means of earning money that he might marry her.

Plaintiff's name of Hermia, 27 years old, and a Cyprian.

In 1894 he came to London, learned English, and went to Edinburgh to study divinity, intending to do his life to spreading Christianity in his country.

IS RE HOPE AT 47?
The lady says sorry to have to mention it was 47 (later) and unmarried, though he supposed at that time of life hope existed.

In August, 1895, she stayed at the Deeside Hydro, Aberdeenshire, at the time plaintiff happened to be staying there for the purpose of raising money pay for a two years' course in medicine at Edinburgh, and afterwards she went to him and, "I am so charmed with your lecture, will you give me a few minutes' private conversation to-morrow?"

At the interview she promised to send an annual subscription, declining to send it through Dr. Stearns as he suggested, on the ground that it would be so interesting to write to him. She gave him £5. A correspondence followed, and at a time she wrote saying that an officer asked her to go out to India, but it was given her much greater pleasure to go Persia. That, observed Mr. Young, was pretty broad hint, and during the winter became engaged by letter, without having seen each other again.

On 17 March, 1896, she said she had had interviews with scientists, who introduced her to some spirit who said she really ought to give him up. (Laughter.)

"YOUR LINGO PATTIE."
A remarkable set of letters were read.

She wrote on 21st promising to come to the Hydro so as to assume previous relations. She said, "Tell Nestorius, if my coming will be any pleasure to you, for I should like to make you happy."

Plaintiff wrote telling her that she had better reconsider what she was saying, as he was only a poor.

She replied, "I like. I have got a house and lots of furniture it makes no difference."

She wrote to him from Edinburgh, "You will soon be happy, your darling Pattie. I shall expect a grand kiss and lots of love for coming at last to Edinburgh."

When she left there she wrote again to him, saying it was to be in the same house and not have opportunities of making love. "Have you any more dreams, darling," she added, "but I must not tease you." (Laughter.)

MADE A NEW LIFE AT DALMEURY.
She got a ring for £100 and one for herself, and they met in grounds of Dalmeury, outside the residence Lord Rosburgh, and there, said Mr. Young, they made a new league and pledged themselves for all eternity. (Laughter.) From Edgbaston, Miss Britten wrote to Nestorius as "My own beloved husband" saying how well her family had received news of the engagement. Sometimes she asked "Do you miss your Pattie?" at one occasion.

It is very naughty, torious, to go and have you hair cut. (Laughter.) You know I like you to have it long will not give you another kiss unless you will let long. Mind you keep your moustache in the right way up." (Laughter.)

ANTICIPATION BLISS.
On 22 June the lady (the date of the wedding, and wrote, and other things, I have decided to have pretty wedding.

We shall be photographed in a group, with me and my Nestorius in the centre. The reception will be held in my room at the hotel, and all refreshments provided. After the wedding cake has been I disappear to change my dress, which I, you, said will take me three hours. I depart amid a shower of confetti, and my Nestorius will have me all to himself.

They had been photographed side by side, and on 24 June she wrote:

The photographs have been. I have kissed my own love. You looking very serious, but you were think. Is this respectable? (Laughter.)

FROM INFORMATION REIVED.
There came a change on 23rd, when she wrote:

Mr. Marcus—Owing to information received—it sounds like a policeman's letter, said Mr. Young—and as you've made no reply in the matter, I must ask you to return all my letters to me at once, so all my photographs and can keep the £5 I do not want it. And then I will send your letters and your ring as soon as I have my own back.

PATTIE'S PART.

Thus, said Mr. Young, the lady broker promise and left Mr. Marcus—he would not say with a broken heart—but with a lot of the money she had often suggested was going to enrich him with. He asked the jury to give such damages as would teach the lady that when she met interesting young men she must not allow herself to be flattered by spirits.

HOW SHE SIGNED HERSELF.
The plaintiff, a dark-skinned, good-looking young man, with shining hair, entered the box, and, replying to his lordship's lady, was very religious.

The Judge: "See she signs her 'Yours in Christ.'"

Cross-examined, witness was five with Miss Britten, and proposed to her for love and not as a matter of business. He had no idea of making money.

Defendant did not appear, and, Bonner, on her behalf, explained that Marcus being naturalised, Miss Britten though position in Persia would not be a pleasure. He had written a book in which he said that wives in Persia were in complete subjection to their husbands, were kept behind walls, and were beaten according to law custom.

His lordship declared that a course of his 30 years' experience, at bar he had never heard of such a case as engagement between an old maid and a P. boy. The letters were silly letters, and in opinion the action was brought by the, to see how much money he could get from woman.

"If I were in your place," lordship concluded, "I should see he didget much."

The jury gave £50 damages.

RACING IN THE EAST.

"VIGILANT" IN THE EAST.
I have never enjoyed the race of witnessing racing in the Australian colonies, but programmes of meetings held in parts of the Far East, including in the Straits Settlements, China, and Japan, with which I have been obligingly furnished, recall scenes with which the writer is familiar, and are of special interest as showing extraordinary progress that is taking place some of our far-off possessions.

Not the least interesting of these racecourses is one of a meeting, held at Sungei Ujong, in the Malay Peninsula, for curiosity enough. I was one of the members of the club in question, and have a recollection of the amusing incidents attended the inauguration of the future ever held in this out-of-the-way State. This was in 1884, and, yet, the dozen who composed the European population, and were the principal actors in the sporting comedy, only two survive equine forces at the disposal of the colony did not exceed thirty, and were a pretty lot, including Australian and Arab, and Burmah, China, and country-bred, not to mention a varminty one-eyed way whose breed could never be satisfactorily determined. Rumour credited him with being

FIRST SEEN THE LION BORNEO, but, be that as it may, he reflected small credit upon his past though he ultimately blossomed out winner. No such thing as a racecourse, but this was only one of the numerous dice with which the situation bristled, and were surrounded without further ado. A pile site was soon chosen, and the Commander of Police and other despotic officials, heart and soul in the good cause, all the able convict labour was forthwith requisited to lay out and level the track, to which completed no exception could be made. It was to the presence of a disused ne hundred yards or so beyond the winpost, which necessitated a sharp descent the right on the part of the competitor, commodious grand stand, constructed of bamboo and matting, was the subject of general admiration; but this, it may be incidentally noted, collapsed at a critical moment, as structures so often do. The programme, famed on unpretentious lines, though the principal event bore the high-sounding title of the Derby, and after all it was won by the many of the minor races which decided in the neighbourhood of London.

NO SUCH THING AS A MACHINE had found its way to the Sultan's dominions, so that the clerk's scales had to have recourse to a Chinese contrivance, such as was in common for weighing tin and other dutiable articles. Being graduated according to the standard of weights, of which a picul represented a hundred weight, and a third, and by one hundredths of a picul, it can readily be imagined that the gentleman, upon whom devolved to weigh out the jockeys' had no more the English scale of stones and pounds rigidly adhered to, on the official card of the riders, who were sufficiently up to their own weight in clothes and leads, were the of their fellow who were content to adjust weight by the primitive method of "pou-buckshot" into their boots. What would be regarded as an unseemly altercation took place between the starter and the jockeys, in the initial event. The sportsman, who had been entrusted with the responsibility of starter, on the strength of his acted in a similar capacity at athletic meetings, caused some consternation amongst the as when he produced a fearsome-looking revolver, with which it was his intention to give the signal, and it was until much valuable time had been wasted that he was prevailed upon to use a fan of an obliging native sportsman to such as on our journey. The ponderous fellow, previously alluded to, distinguished himself by annexing two rings, and he was raffled and won by his owner.

G. GIBB, GENERAL GROCERIES, PRISON and BAKER.

the following week. A third attempt to dispose of him in the same manner proved fruitless.

THE RAFFLE DID NOT FAIL.

The recollection of being placed second five times that afternoon, in one that lingers in the memory, but the meeting was a pronounced success, and has been growing steadily in importance and popularity ever since. The old course has, I understand, long fallen into disuse, having been replaced by a first-rate track, with permanent modern buildings.

Previously to 1884 racing in the Straits Settlements was practically confined to the old-established and well-conducted fixtures of Singapore and Penang, of which the first-named owes much of its present prosperity, if not its very existence, to the liberal and generous patronage of that fine sportsman, the late Sultan of Johore, than whom no "whiter" man ever wore the shadowed livery of the burnished sun. At present, however, thanks to the rapid and remarkable development of the Native States, the number of meetings has been considerably augmented, and high-class sport for substantial stakes can be witnessed in half a dozen different centres. Moreover, the starting-gate is in general use, and speculation is practically restricted to the use of the totalisator, lotteries also being much in vogue. The equine competitors are for the most part thoroughbreds imported from Australia, but ponies from the same source, as well as from India and Burmah, are also entered for. English horses have been tried, but failed to stand the climate.

CECIL RHODES' WILL.

The London correspondent of the Englishman, writing on the 6th instant, says:—Public attention is still absorbed contemplating the provisions of Cecil Rhodes' Will; the huge sums with which it deals, and the spirit of munificence which permeates it, are being universally remarked upon. The testator has a semi-humorous hit at the simplicity of the academic mind in mundane affairs. The bequest to Oriel College, Oxford, contains the following sentence:—"As the College authorities live secluded from the world, and are like children in commercial matters, I request them to consult my trustees regarding the investment of their funds." The Will goes on to express a strong opinion in favour of a residential University system. The German Scholarships left by the recent codicil are in recognition of the compliment paid to England by the German Emperor, in causing English instruction to be made compulsory in German Schools.

Extraordinary scenes were witnessed all through Cape Colony, during the passage of the funeral train conveying the body of Mr. Cecil Rhodes, and the Dutch were conspicuous in their tributes of affection and respect. Work was at a standstill at Kimberley, where 15,000 people filed past the body.

The authorities at Oxford are gratified at Mr. Cecil Rhodes' will, and welcome the new students. It is expected that the effect on Oxford will be far-reaching and invigorating. The American Press dwells upon the characteristic language of Mr. Cecil Rhodes' will, and says the document will be a perpetual link between Great Britain and America.

MAY YOHE AND THE COLONEL.

LORD FRANCIS HOPE'S DIVORCE SUIT.

The case of Hope v. Hope and Strong, which came before Sir F. Jeune on 21st ult., was the petition of Lord Henry Francis Hope Pelham-Clinton-Hope for a dissolution of his marriage with his wife, known on the stage as May Yohe, on the ground of her misconduct with Colonel Putham Bradley Strong, of the New York Militia. Lord Francis Hope, having met with an accident while shooting, was seated at the solicitors' table.

Mr. Barnard, who appeared for the petitioner, stated that Lord Francis Hope and the respondent were married on November 27, 1894, at the registry office at Hampstead. They lived happily together at various places in England and abroad until March of last year. In 1900 the petitioner and his wife went round the world, and on their way they made the acquaintance of the co-respondent, who was a Colonel in the New York Militia. In November, 1900, the petitioner and his wife went out to New York, where the respondent took a theatrical engagement. They took a flat in New York at 215, West, Thirty-fourth-street. In January, 1901, the petitioner went with his brother to Florida for a fortnight, and left his wife, who was then performing in New York, with her aunt, at the flat. In February the petitioner came to England on business, again leaving his wife in New York. He returned on March 27, and joined his wife at the flat in New York. From that time he noticed a very great change in her manner towards him, and she said that he could leave her. On April 18 she insisted that either he or she should leave the flat. Lord Francis Hope tried to persuade her against the resolution, but she suggested that they should go to her solicitor. They went, and as she still insisted on a separation, it was agreed that she should leave her. The next day he came to England. From inquiries it appeared that the cause of the change was the co-respondent, who during the petitioner's absence in London in February had frequently visited the flat and stayed there with the respondent. There was further evidence to show that the respondent and co-respondent went to various places in America, among them San Francisco, passing as husband and wife.

Sir F. Jeune remarked that if Lord Francis had any suspicion he should not have left his wife alone in New York, as it left her open to temptation. Lord Francis Hope assured his lordship that he had not the slightest suspicion of anything wrong. Colonel Strong visited occasionally, but not so often as to give rise to any suspicion. Evidence of misconduct was read on affidavit, and his lordship granted a decree nisi, with costs.

NOTICE.
THE SECOND VOLUME OF BOOKS EXCHANGE TABLES with Rates in 1/10ths from 1/1015 (down to) 1/101, is now in the bookbinders' hands and will be published next week. These Tables, which run in columns of 100, from 1/101 down to 1/101, and from 1/101 down to 1/101, enable the user to arrive at the value in Dollars of any sum in Sterling under £1,000 by simply adding the equivalent of the Shillings and Pence to that of the Pounds; or to get the value in Sterling of any Sum of Dollars and Cents under $1,000 by adding the equivalent of the Cents to that of the Dollars. By these simple means of computation a very considerable saving of time and trouble, besides securing a ready means of proving accuracy, is secured, as is illustrated in the following examples. To reduce £89, 17, 11 into Dollars at Exchange 1/10 1/101—

£89. 0. 0 = $9,561. 926
17. 11 = 9. 745
$9,571. 671
whereas with the other exchange books the process would be as follows:—
£80. 0. 0 = $8,702. 550
70. 0. 0 = 761. 473
9. 0. 0 = 97. 904
17. 0. 0 = 9. 247
11. 0. 0 = 497
$9,571. 671
or to convert the dollars into sterling at the same rate of exchange:—
$9,000.00 = £827. 6. 10. 8
$71.00 = 52. 9. 11
571 = 1. 2. 43
£829. 17. 11. 00
but by other books it would be:—
$9,000.00 = £827. 6. 10. 8
500.00 = 41. 9. 3. 4
70.00 = 6. 8. 8. 6
1.00 = 1. 10. 1
1.00 = 1. 1. 3
70 = 1. 9
£829. 17. 11. 00
Every care has been taken in compiling these Tables to insure their accuracy and even as the book was being printed the last impression of each sheet was taken and carefully rechecked by two separate persons and any little errors in reading which will crop up in such works as these are carefully corrected in each copy before it is issued, thus making it a most accurate and useful book. Subscriptions for the book and the previous volume may be sent to the Daily Telegraph Office, Price 5/6 per copy. Hongkong, 10th February, 1902. [172d]
